

Annabelles Celebrates 15 Years

It seems unbelievable, but Annabelles has been open for 15 years already! I would like to thank the local community and all my wonderful customers for their continued support over the years. Without you, Annabelles would never have been able to carry on for so long!

By way of thanks I have always tried to give back to the community by supporting local schools, kindergartens, sports teams and events in any way that I can.

Annabelles has always been a family business, and my son Sang has been a familiar face around the restaurant since he was a young boy. After graduating from Kings College, he went to university in America on a golfing scholarship where he completed a Bachelor of Communication. Since graduating he has travelled extensively, forging business connections, attending conferences and researching new ideas. He has also been interested in sailing from a young age, and recently completed his sailing ticket from England to China! Now that he is back in New Zealand on a more permanent basis, he will be doing a bit more to take over the running of the restaurant, so if you don't know him, pop down and say hi!

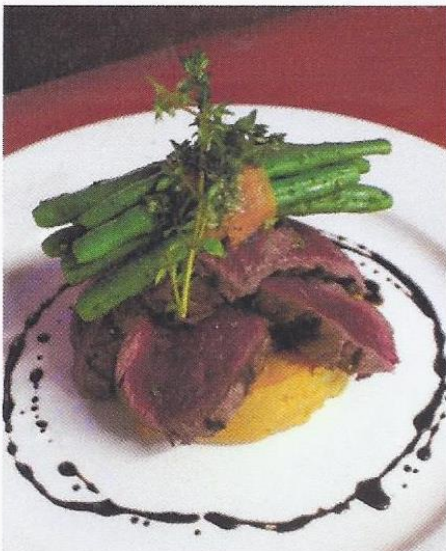

Fifteen years is a long time to be open, and although we have fixed up bits and pieces along the way as we expanded from a tiny twenty person restaurant to the size we are now, we felt it was definitely time for a fresh new look! We are still exactly the same underneath though – committed to consistently serving delicious, healthy food and great wine.
